PETALUMA MOTHER DIES

On Wednesday all that was mortal of Mrs. Louise Knoch was laid to rest amidst a wealth of flowers among which was a beautiful floral pillow from the Jack London ranch, a token of the esteem of those who had known deceased through her son, Lee, a trusted employee of the ranch for many years. All work was suspended on the London ranch out of deference to the young man, and respect for the beloved mother who was called to eternal rest after but a few days illness from pneumonia.

Just three weeks ago, Mrs. Shepard joined the Knoch family in the celebration of the 39th wedding anniversary of the devoted couple now parted by death. Besides the husband of deceased and the son, Lee, several other children mourn the passing of this good wife and mother.

RYAN LANDS THIRD BURGLAR

Deputy Sheriff Rounds Up Last of Trio Implicated in Recent Robberies Here. Geo. Connors Is Arrested.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan rounded up the last of the trio of alleged thieves who invaded Sonoma two nights within the last month, and with the arrest of Geo. Connors in Vallejo Tuesday, all the men believed responsible for the robberies are now in custody. Tom Sisto was already in jail, E. E. Slatten has been turned over by the military authorities and Connors was captured the first of the week after an exciting chase.

Connors lived in Vallejo where he has a wife and three children. He disappeared shortly after the arrest of Sisto and suspicion was directed toward him. When he returned to the navy yard town, his house was watched and Chief Sanford of Vallejo, when informed that Connors was at home, went to arrest him. The much wanted man evaded the officers however, and fled to the cemetery where he went into hiding. Believing that he would later seek refuge in his home, the officers decided to return at 3 a. m. and surrounded the house. The plan was followed out and Connors was captured. Fully two thirds of the stolen goods was located on the Connors premises by Deputy Sheriff Ryan.

Connors formerly worked near Glen Ellen. He has a prison record, having been in San Quentin under the name of Harris for burglary and in the Iowa Reform School.

Tom Sisto, the jitney driver, arrested last week, was held to answer Monday before the Superior Court.

Too Many Fingers In The Pie

THE ROAD MIX-UP between the new County Engineer, a Supervisor and the Tax Payers Association is furnishing goodly food for gossip and speculation as to who will come out on top. The District Attorney asserts that the County Engineer does not have to O. K. the bills of Supervisor Cunningham's road district and that Auditor Pool may pay them. Secretary Peters of the Tax Payers Association declares that the County Engineer act provides that when the county hires a County Engineer, bills must be referred to him and passed upon. The Supervisors admit that Supervisor Cunningham refused to accept the idea of a County Engineer's services and the latter was retained with the understanding that Cunningham's district was not to be effected.

The tax payer who is the party really concerned, is interested in seeing that money is not wasted through the overlapping of duties or through waste and stupidity. With a county surveyor still on the job, the acquisition of Mr. Aldrich, the county engineer, and a retinue of assistants, and a supervisor still insisting on being the major domo in his district, it looks as though the overlapping of duties was inevitable and that all the official road repairers, builders and surveyors now within the confines of Sonoma County and on the payroll would have a hard time keeping out of each others way.

The County Engineer has been hired at $4500 per year and extra for all his helpers, the County Surveyor cannot be fired until the termination of his elective period when the office will cease to exist. The County Surveyor's salary goes right along until then, and the Supervisors draw their accustomed pay $1000 per year and travel pay. Heaven protect the poor tax payer and compensate him for the trials and tributes levied during the transition period in this era of "better road getting" is the prayer of the people of Sonoma County. It appears to us that the County Engineer act was not designed to vest any further power in the supervisors, but rather curtailed their power and that is why it was fought bitterly before its passage, many believing that the supervisors, being answerable to the people, were more to be entrusted with authority than an outside man, appointed for his technical ability. But since Sonoma County adopted the Engineering plan and it is operative in this district and all except that of Supervisor Cunningham, it would seem that it should apply to all if it does not, as a matter of fair play and economy.

If as the District Attorney rules, it is up to the Supervisors to delegate authority at their discretion to the County Engineer, it is obvious that the County Engineering act will not prove the panacea for mistakes, the barrier to political patronage and other evils of the old system in vogue and the new office is likely to be but an expensive innovation if we permit too many fingers in the pie.

$7,000 Session For The Ladies

IT HAS OFTEN been stated that Governor Stephens is a ladies man but it never was so forcibly illustrated as in the recent expenditure of $7000 for an extra session of the Legislature at Sacramento just to ratify the national suffrage amendment to help "the dear things." Some enthusiasts among the fair sex may be mightily pleased at the governor's action in spending a little trifle like $7000 in order to further the voting prerogative of the ladies of the U. S. A. but women who are tax payers in this state will feel pretty much as the men folks do, that it was a matter of very poor judgment in these days of big expense to convene the senate and assembly in session extraordinary and have the tax payers dig up good money for it.

The next thing listed for extra session is the high cost of living which we would like to predict will result in nothing but talk and very likely the creating of new jobs or extra pay for probers.

The Japanese problem for which there is a crying need of legislation might well have occupied the attention of legislators at some regular session for it is a big question and might hang on for discussion many days at big expense. With everything else draining the purses of the people of California, it looks as if law making, a promiscuous practice, should at least be confined to regular sessions except for real emergency. The average politician becomes pretty well warped when it comes to the consideration of public expenditure. It is so easy to fall in line with or to recommend the spending of the dear peoples money or to sponsor experiments likely to prove costly to everyone but the successful job chaser.

Swatting Autocracy Via Music

THE DEMONSTRATION in New York against the production of German opera shows contempt for art and nothing more. Music is universal and the masterpieces of the great composers of that country which we instinctively or by requirement came to appreciate will out live all present prejudice. Now that the war is over and we are not so highly sensitized we may go on appreciating art for arts sake and not even make apology for having been wed to the tune of Lohengrin or Mendelssohn. If anything foreshadowed a better self in the enemy it was surely the tender songs and poems of this misguided people.

An out burst of patriotism such as recently indulged in by a New York mob in front of the opera house seems strangely at variance with present day strike violence, a condition which calls for the display of all overflow patriotism in this country right now.

Those of the enemy who are really vindictive and nurse their wrath at America's part in the war look with far more satisfaction at the progress of our internal discord and perhaps chuckle at the puerile attempt to discredit their harmony and the clamor to put a ban on their opera at a time when such a magnificent display of patriotism is being staged by labor unions. We venture to say that there is just about as much depth and substance to patriotism warring on German opera as there is to the foam on a glass of lode time beer (a simile very liable to be held up by either "patriots" or prohibitionists).

We have resumed trade relations with Germany and do not despise the resumption of business and it is safe to say that we are in no danger either from commercialism or art of being victimized by any propaganda. Let us enjoy peace with all its attendant blessings, the resumption of normal business relations and the enjoyment of good music and art regardless of origin. Let us prove our patriotism by making the interests of the United States paramount to any class struggle rather than by a puny attempt to swat autocracy by clamping the lid on melody.

Trapping, A New Craft

A NEW PROFESSION requiring real technical training and new sleuth skill has come into being with the national prohibition enforcement measure. With an appropriation of hundreds of thousands of dollars to stamp out the buying a drink habit and the liquor traffic, a big force is needed and the new business will require as fine a sense of discrimination as was ever possessed by wine connoisseurs. Not only does a booze catcher have to have a knowledge of aromatic fumes and bouquets, but he also must be equipped to catch and register the percentage of alcohol. Part of the prescribed equipment is something like a gas mask or a feed bag, and by this means he "gets the goods" on his victim. It is a profession wherein it is to become a fine art to catch a bartender—the obsolete but "fly" personage whose past training will make him wise to traps unless they are very skillfully camouflaged. So the government proposes to train its force, even to the nocturnal pose before the brass railed-mahogany bar where soft drinks are dispensed but hard stuff still lurks. Here the new trapper is to show his skill after graduation in the revenue training school by being able to fool the sheep clothed wolf, garbed as a soda water boy. Here is a new field of labor to take the place of some of the crafts eliminated by prohibition. The newest profession is rich in possibilities if not overworked from the job chaser end.

THE POULTRYMEN of this section are uniting in defense of a threatened boycott on their produce. Anyone who lives in the country and knows the hard work and long hours of our poultrymen and sees that they are beset by all the high cost problems too, realizes that a boycott is an unjust come back.

President Wilson's stand against war-time prohibition enforcement proved that he is a just man and refused to become a party to subterfuge and chicanery in the interest of anything even though it bears the O. K. of reform and was held to be an ethical and moral emergency measure. Our own Congressman, C. F. Lea, branded this vicious act as it should have been branded and President Wilson stands squarely with him in the denunciation which came to us through his veto.

GOMPERS SAYS prohibition is causing unrest in this country. Well the I. W. W. always predicted that the day of revolution would be hastened when the laborer was deprived of the sedative effect of his drink and shook off the thralldom of King Alcohol. A dangerous percentage of the millions in this country are in jails and asylums as a safeguard to society and who knows but that a dangerous percentage outside was held in check through the influence of alcohol. It is interesting food for thought and for inquiry by sociologists. Meanwhile the nation of some of those who used to drink but now are the prey of agitators, is driving others to drink and of course there is nothing to drink which makes a decisive jar in the nerve force of the country. We are contending with this in the U. S. A. today.

SAYS THE Santa Rosa Republican "Those who have made up their grapes say that this years wine is of fine quality, probably never surpassed during the many years that California grapes have been made into claret. This year's wine?—Claret? Soft pedal that foot juice, brother, or the revenue officers will have all their gum-shoe men up in the vicinity of Santa Rosa. Must be grape cider you men, brother, the only kick allowed to be register-ed now. Claret is but a memory, a glorious red sunset.

WHAT ONE SONOMA VALLEY VINEYARD PRODUCED

The Madrone Vineyard of which L. M. Bish is superintendent produced 700 ton of wine grapes this season which at prevailing prices made the 1919 crop worth something like $30,000. Mr. Bish has always shipped the grapes and says he will probably continue to cultivate and ship as he believes the market will continue good for grapes for many years to come. The Madrone Vineyard was at one time owned by the late Mrs. Phoebe Hearst.

FUNERAL OF JOHN WATT

Many relatives and old friends of the Watt family were here last Saturday for the funeral of John Watt, the respected pioneer and former Sonoma resident whose sudden death was recorded in these columns last week. Impressive funeral services at St. Francis Church were held upon the arrival of the morning train from Oakland.

Among those who came to Sonoma for the funeral outside of the immediate family were Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, Murphy, Furey, Jansen, Ward, Lath, Arth, of Oakland, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gallagher of Pt. Reyes.

Mr. Watt's death was a great shock to his family as he had been in the best health and left the house in his usual happy frame of mind looking forward to his trip to Pt. Reyes. A few days previous he had been having his teeth treated and the dentist had given him a prescription for his heart on account of his advanced age. It was this medicine which he carried with him and was found upon his remains that precluded a coroner's inquest after the fatal heart attack at Sausalito.

ANNUAL HALLOWE'EN PARTY OF WHITE SHELL CLUB

A jolly affair was the annual Halloween social of the White Shell Club given at I. O. O. F. hall last Friday night. The decorations were all in keeping with the holiday and the weird and effective costumes of the members added merriment to the evening. There were about 50 members and their guests present, and recitations and songs with games, dancing and eats provided everyone with a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff gave some clever numbers as did Mrs. Fred Hansen. The White Shell Club is composed of leading poultrymen and their wives and they always prove hospitable hosts and hostesses. Last Friday night was no exception and it was a late hour before homes sweet homes were even thought of.

RAILROAD MUST PAY FOR LOST WINE

Angelo Cassani was given judgment for $2008.62, damages against the Northwestern Pacific Railroad in a decision filed in the superior court yesterday by Judge Emmet Seawell.

The suit was filed some time ago, and sought recovery for wine lost and spoiled in transit from Santa Rosa to New York. It was the contention of Cassani that the shipment took three months to cross the continent, and that many of the barrels broken and the contents spoiled, and some of the barrels and contents missing, to the amount of more than $2,000 when it finally reached the eastern seaboard.

The railroad's defense was that the wine was improperly prepared, and burst the barrels because the process of fermentation was not complete before the shipment was started on its way.

PARTY IN HONOR OF MR. AND MRS. CARLSON, NEWLYWEDS

A delightful party, brimfull of the spirit of Halloween was given complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. F. Carlson (nee Rena McDaniels) at Odd Fellows Hall last Saturday night. The affair was given by Mrs. Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Potter and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schell, which in itself was a guarantee of a good time and plenty of hospitality. Paul's orchestra provided music for dancing and there was a fine repast served, the guests departing reluctantly for their homes at a late hour. Among those present to compliment the newlyweds were Mr. and Mrs. Stonier, McAlister, Burmeister, G. Rubke, C. Cutter, Stillings, Schell, Stein, Helberg, Jensen, Carlson Joost, Dix, Campbell, Harris, Potter, Bosch, Monson, Waller, Hansen, Martinson, Vernett, McAndrews, Mrs. Carrie Dependence, Misses Burdard, McConochie, Goodman, Cooper, Arnot, Springer, Evans, Mrs. Koeboom, Mrs. Pauli, Mrs. Geo. ## HIGH SCHOOL COLUMN

On October 31, the student body was called to order by vice president Arsene Chauvet.

Fred Schell gave a report on the amount of work accomplished by the boys on the new athletic field. Two broad jump pits had been dug, a baseball stop erected and the running track partly finished. Mr. Golton stated that several hundred dollars are needed to complete the work and suggested various means of entertainment in order to raise money. A motion was made, seconded and carried to raise the money by entertainments and that the pupils give time out of school for practice.

Tom Palmer and Victor Clements who represented the S. V. U. H. S. at the convention of Student Body presidents at Stockton on Oct. 23-25, gave full and interesting reports of their trip and of the proceedings of the convention. This convention was called for the purpose of bringing together representatives in the different high school organizations in the state in order that they might compare notes on the athletics, social and other student affairs. Our boys brought to us a number of good ideas. The advisory council of fifteen are at present considering the adoption of the best of these. It is probable that some scheme of school government will be adopted which will put upon the pupils a larger measure of responsibility in school management.

Harry Burmester then gave a report of the visit of Sonoma High School boys to the Agricultural meet at Davis.

A suggestion was then made to have pool tables as a form of recreation in the school. Mr. Golton remarking that he did not see harm in pool tables as long as gambling was prohibited, but that more space was needed before such things could be enjoyed.

A motion was made and carried to prevent the attendance at Student body meetings of all pupils who had neglected to pay their dues.

A motion was also made that the school open an employment bureau through which students who wished might obtain work to pay for their dues.

There being nothing left for further discussion, Mr. Golton gave a short talk to enthrall those who could organize a school band. Pupils so desiring, were requested to list their names with the secretary.

Reported by Ivan Johnson.

WHAT OUR YOUNG FARMERS LEARNED ON VISIT TO DAVIS

On Oct. 16, seven boys and their farm advisor, Mr. L. L. Stenquist, left the Sonoma High School for the University Farm at Davis.

The school districts were represented as follows: El Verano, Herbert Amaman and John Wallace; San Luis, Joe Kiser and Stanley McGill; Huichica, Harry Cordell; Sonoma Union High School, Harry Dwyer and Harry Burmester.

On Oct. 17, the boys visited the dairy barn and were shown how to judge cows. A good milk cow should have a large bag, great breadth across the hips and a broad flat mouth so she can get a great many blades of grass at one bite. She should also have smooth, silky hair.

For a beef cow, choose one that has a broad, flat mouth, that is wide across the hips, and that has short legs, a short neck, heavy bones and is in fairly good condition. She should have smooth, silky hair.

The boys saw milo maize being put in a silo. Almost any forage crop can be put in a silo, but it must be packed well when it is being put in the silo and kept damp or it will spoil. There are many types of silos. Certain types are adapted for certain climates, but all silos must be painted and braced and taken care of. A round silo is better than a square one.

The advantages of crop rotation were explained to the boys. By planting a crop which matures early and can be taken off the ground, in time to plant another in the same ground, a person can have two crops a year from his land instead of one.

On visiting the hog barn the boys learned that a ground floor is the best floor for a hog house, but this kind of floor can not be used because the pigs root up the ground and the house will fall over when the wind blows. A cement floor will be too cold. The best floor is a board one with straw laid on it. A hog barn should be built so that the sides can be propped open to let in the sun. The food of a hog is as important as its shelter. When a pig is young it should be fed plenty of bone making food and when it has reached its size it should be given fattening food.

At the sheep barn the boys were told that a good sheep should be wide across the hips, have short legs, which, if viewed from the back, should be straight, turning neither in nor out, have a wide mouth, a short tail and fine silky hair.

The irrigation system at the farm was also explained to the boys. The tank was 20 x 10 x 4 ft. and from it, led ditches to the various fields. Watergates were set at the entrance of the main ditch to the field to regulate the amount and direction of the flow. At the ends of each furrow boxes open at the ends were set through which the water flowed into the furrow. By stopping or part

RUDY LICHTENBERG OPERATED APPLES DISTRIBUTED UPON AT ST FRANCIS HOSPITAL

Rudy Lichtenberg, popular manager of Boyes Springs has just recovered from the effects of an operation for appendicitis which was successfully performed by Dr. Gallway at the St. Francis hospital in San Francisco. He had been a chronic sufferer from appendicitis for the past ten years.

Rudy's many friends are glad to see him back and hope he will enjoy the best of health in the future. Lichtenberg's partner Mr. Klein is in the hospital also, having been taken ill while in San Francisco this week.

COMING PLAY TO BE GIVEN BY LOCAL CAST ATTRACTS ATTENTION

"For Love or Money" is the title of the play to be given this month at the Womans Clubhouse for the benefit of the Ladies Aid of the Congregational church. The cast includes: Edna Jensen, Jessie Hiser, Minnie Cook, Gladys Simmons, Rae Hunter, Harry Burmester and Mr. Mc Allister.

A sale of fancy work and refreshments will add to the evening's attractiveness and all indications are for a highly successful affair.

By stopping the end of a box with sod, water could be wholly or partially shut off from any furrow.

The horse barn, the veterinary barn, the seed house, the grape dryer, the vegetable house and the poultry house were also visited and the boys were told many things about these plants which will be useful to them on their own farms.

All the boys came home feeling that the University Farm at Davis was a place worth while for a farmer to visit and the school a worth while school for a boy to attend. Harry Cordell.

TO SICK SOLDIERS THROUGH RED CROSS

From all the great apple growing centers of the United States shipments of scores and hundreds of boxes of choice fruit, all the varieties of apple and the pick of the crop are going forward to-day to the military and naval hospitals of the land.

In the generous ratio of one box to every five soldier or sailor patients, the apples are being sent to the hospitals for free distribution, to the men as a gift from the International Apple Shippers' Association.

The inspiration of the "treat" is a desire to celebrate in this way National Apple Day, which is next Thursday, (November 6). Two years ago a similar gift was made to the men overseas.

Arrangements for sending the apples this year to the men in the hospitals were made by the association through the American Red Cross. Red Cross workers are taking care of the distribution of the apples at the hospitals.

The quota assigned for shipment in the Pacific Division of the Red Cross, including California, Arizona, and Nevada, is about 1500 boxes. The total number of boxes distributed throughout the United States will be about 6000.

EFFORT TO BREAK WILL OF OLD LADY FAILS

Judge Thomas C. Denny Friday rendered findings in the will contest instituted by Michael Bohan against Aubrey Barham named as executor of the estate of Elizabeth Bohan, deceased.

The court finds that Mrs. Bohan was of sound mind when she made her last will August 15, 1915. Residents of the coast section testified that they believed the deceased eccentric, and some even believed her insane, but the court finds that she was sane in the sense attributed by the law to making wills.

Property of the value of about $6000 is involved in the will, which devised everything to the daughter of deceased, Catherine Elizabeth Bohan an inmate of the Mendocino hospital. Aubrey Barham who was named executor, will proceed with the probate of the will.

Attorneys Gale and Gale represented Mr. Barham, and they won a signal victory over the contestant, Mike Bohan, who was a nephew of deceased.—Republican.

Mr. Barham is father-in-law of Al Stein of this place and resides on the former Switzer ranch in this valley which the Steins and Barhams purchased some years ago.
